MAINTENANCE ACCOUNT.

The receipts and payments are presented under different heads.

The Maintenance Account for the past year ending Sept. 21st, exhibits a balance on the whole year which must occasion a call for augmentation of the weekly charge for patients, unless the prices of provisions should be materially lowered. As the balance in hand on this account is materially reduced by the demand made upon it during each of the last four quarters, your Committee advise that the rate of payment shall be increased to 7s. 3½d.

PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST ACCOUNT.

The receipts from the rates amount to £3,554 18s. 7d.
The payments during the year have been as follows :

	£	s.	d.
Principal paid off	2000	0	0
Interest do.	1732	15	5
Income Tax	99	15	0
Clerk of the Peace	71	3	11
	<hr/>
	3903	14	4
	<hr/>

The balance in the Treasurer's hands is £727 5s. 3d., which will be almost absorbed in paying the interest which will accrue previous to the April Sessions : until which time no rates will be receivable.

The whole debt is now £35,500.

FIRST COST ACCOUNT.

Under this head the receipts during the year have been £287 5s. 3d. One payment of £17 has been made to Messrs. Haden and Co.

The balance due to the Treasurer on this account is £248 4s. 5d., which debt, it is expected, will be liquidated in the course of the present year, without making a call upon the county rate.

SPECIAL RATE AND REPAIRS ACCOUNT.

The amount produced by the Farthing Rate ordered at the Michaelmas Sessions, was £1184 17s. 2d. A small balance of £49 8s. 8d., due to the Treasurer under this head, has been liquidated; and he has disbursed £211 15s. 10d., viz.:

For Repairs..... £74 19s. 5d.

For Improvements £136 16s. 5d.

Leaving a balance in his hands of £923 12s. 8d.

Your Committee during the past year, after due consideration, have raised the salary of Mr. Ward from £70 to £85, having in the previous year increased the stipend of Mr. Symes, the medical assistant, from £60 to £80, believing it to be the best economy to ensure the services of capable and trustworthy persons by liberal remuneration, rather than allow them to educate themselves in this Asylum for the benefit of other places, and leave their posts to be filled by others entering upon them to pursue the same course. In accordance with the same principle, they have raised the wages of the engineer, a most efficient and zealous servant, and with a view to insure hereafter, as at present, the services of a well-qualified man to fill that most difficult and important office, they have determined, in compliance with a suggestion from the House Committee, to erect a cottage for the engineer. The County Surveyor has sent in a plan for a suitable cottage containing two rooms below and three above, and has also furnished the necessary specifications for tenders for building the same. The Committee feel every inclination to continue their confidence in the Medical Superintendent: they have authorized him to purchase certain things for the amusement of the patients.

The Chaplain's book records the daily attendance of nearly two-thirds of the patients at Morning Prayer.

They enter into no further details, which will be given in the report now in preparation by Dr. Thurnam; to which will, as heretofore, be appended a very minute and particular account of all receipts and payments of money, and other subjects connected with the working of the establishment.

For the Committee,

G. P. LOWTHER,

Chairman.

The Medical Superintendent submits to the Committee of Visitors his Tenth Annual Report, as follows :

Tenth Annual Report.

The numbers admitted during the year have somewhat exceeded the average, and amount to 111, of which 23 are re-admissions. There were in the Asylum at the beginning of the year (inclusive of two absent on trial) 338 patients, of whom 138 were men, and 200 women. The average number under care has been 342.9 ;—viz., 140.9 males, and 202 females.

Numbers
and Admissions.

There are now in the Asylum 350 ; of whom 141 are men and 209 women. These numbers show a gradual increase, especially in the female department. On one occasion—viz., on the 16th of October—the number of female patients reported to the House Committee amounted to 211 ; at which time there was no vacant bed in the female wards. Since that date, the numbers have been slightly reduced ; but it does not appear probable that the question as to the provision of further accommodation for female patients can be very much longer deferred.

Discharges
and Recoveries.

Forty-nine patients have been discharged recovered; whose restoration, in several instances, was tested by a probationary residence with their friends, for a period of from one to three months. In one instance of determined refusal of food, a young man who had been only a few weeks in the Asylum, and who took food freely from his mother on her occasional visits, was discharged on trial for two months, notwithstanding that his case exhibited no signs of amendment. The plan was so far successful that the immediate danger from protracted abstinence was at once averted, and for a time he appeared likely to recover. About the expiration of the period of trial, however, he was brought back to the Asylum, having manifested symptoms of a troublesome description. There was no further difficulty as to his food; he gradually improved and shook off all his delusions, excepting a singular one as to the days of the week—he persisting in observing Monday as a Sabbath. He was discharged relieved at the end of seven months, from his first admission.

Popular Ignorance.

As illustrative of the extraordinary ignorance which still prevails, in some quarters, as to the treatment of the insane, it may be stated that in the case of a patient who subsequently recovered, the Medical Superintendent received the following note from the relieving officer of the town to which the man belonged:

“March 16, 1860.

“Sir,—May I request that you will be good enough to inform me of the condition of E. F., merely for the purpose of setting at rest the ridiculous reports that have been in circulation in this town. About a month ago it was reported that he had been stifled. Another report fresh from Devizes is that you have bled him to death. A few lines to satisfy his friends will oblige, “Your’s obediently,

“To Dr. Thurnam.”

It seems at first sight scarcely possible that such reports could gain a moment’s credence at the present day ; especially in the immediate neighbourhood of a large public asylum, under local and government inspection, and open to the visits of persons in all ranks of life.

There are in the Asylum seven “Criminal Lunatics,” all of the male sex. One female patient of this class, who had been an inmate upwards of three years and who was chargeable to the Witney Union, has been removed to the County Asylum for Oxfordshire, under a warrant from the Secretary of State for the Home Department. One male “Criminal Lunatic” has been admitted, under a like order. He was reported to have become insane in prison ; he having been sentenced, at the Quarter Sessions, on a charge of “larceny as a servant.” On admission, he was found to be suffering under mania with hallucinations of grandeur.

“Criminal Lunatics.”

The general health of the patients has on the whole been good, and no epidemic disorder of importance has prevailed.

General Health.

Deaths and rate of Mortality.

There have been 39 deaths; viz., 26 men and 13 women. The high mortality of the preceding year 1859, in which there were 57 deaths, has thus, as was anticipated, been to a considerable extent equalized by the more favourable mortality of this year, which is at the rate of 11.37 per cent., or slightly less than the mean annual rate since the opening of the Asylum.

MEAN ANNUAL MORTALITY.	MALES.	FEMALES.	BOTH SEXES.
For the year 1860. . .	18.45	6.43	11.37
For 9.35 years*—1851-60	15.62	8.48	11.62

Ten of the deaths were those of persons of sixty years of age and upwards; two being aged respectively eighty-three and eighty-four years.

Causes of Death.

Among the causes of death, seven were from epilepsy, three from apoplexy, and the unusual number of twelve from pulmonary consumption. Of these last, four were of the age of fifty-nine and upwards; one being of the remarkable age, for this disease, of seventy-five years. As usual in the insane, the pulmonary symptoms, in many of these cases, were much masked; and in several, in which the disease was almost or quite latent, the patients sank away, without any obvious symptoms, after very short periods of illness. One man, aged seventy-three, died instantaneously, from a rupture of the heart, the muscular walls of the left ventricle being found lacerated and the pericardium distended with blood, on examination post mortem. The only symptoms from which he had suffered were slight pains in the abdomen, which, as he was hypochondriacally disposed, did not attract much notice, though medical treatment was adopted.

* Viz., from the opening of the Asylum, Sept. 19th, 1851, to the end of the year 1860.

In one case, a patient was brought to the Asylum late at night, in a moribund condition, and died in the course of a few hours. It is hardly necessary to say that the removal from home of patients in a state of exhaustion such as was present in this case, is in every way to be deprecated; the mortality of the Asylum being unjustly swelled, without any benefit to the individual, whose last hours, by procrastination on the one hand or precipitancy on the other, are made needlessly distressing by the fatigue and exposure to which he is subjected. In the case before us, no blame attached to any relieving officer or other public functionary, but rather, as would appear, to the family of the patient.

Removal of a Dying Patient.

Two patients have given birth to children, in the one case five days, and in the other seven months after admission. After being nursed for about six weeks, the infants were removed from the Asylum. One of the mothers has since been discharged recovered.

Birth of Children.

Six escapes have been reported. In none of these does any blame appear to attach to the attendants who had the care of the patients; all of whom were brought back by the servants of the Asylum or otherwise, after the lapse of a few hours. In one of these cases the patient might have succeeded in effecting his object, had it not been for the sound of the steam-whistle described in the Fifth Report, which attracted the attention of a labourer, by whom the patient would otherwise have been unnoticed.—Two of the escapes were those of females; one, a convalescent patient, whose discharge, for family reasons, had been postponed, displayed great ingenuity in the mode of her escape, effected at the dead of night, from a dormitory, in which she slept with ten other patients, she having concealed a metal spoon, which she used as a screw-driver in removing the fastenings of the window and its shutters. In one case, a violent patient attempted to escape from the farm; but was pursued by several attendants, who overtook him in a neighbouring field, but found him prepared to resist, having a large stone in his hand, which he declared he would “put in the brain of the man who dared to touch him.” Under these circumstances, in sheer self defence, some force was necessarily employed by the attendants, which being seen by men in a field hard by, they, thinking needless severity was used, very properly came to the Asylum and reported their impressions. On investigation, however, by the Medical Superintendent, and afterwards by the Committee, the attendants were fully acquitted of resorting to any undue violence. In such instances, it is constantly enforced on the attendants to use all possible forbearance and tact, and where practicable to avoid personal struggles. This case is mentioned for the information of the public, as garbled reports of the circumstance for some time prevailed in the neighbourhood.

A few casualties have occurred, and one male and four females have sustained accidental injuries requiring surgical treatment. One was a fracture of the clavicle, the result of a fall during a severe epileptic seizure; one was in a female, eighty years of age, who being slightly pushed by a fellow-patient, slipped down and broke the thigh-bone. The man experienced a similar injury, in consequence of falling from a window, to which he had climbed, desiring to force his way through it. The other cases were of less moment. All have recovered, or are likely to do so.

Casualties.

The most important addition to, and improvement in, the Asylum, effected during the year, consists in the erection of a third steam-boiler; which, at a total cost of about £189, has been placed in the engine-house. By means of this boiler, the drying-apparatus of the laundry will be rendered more efficient, and the various other branches of the steam-service much assisted. The new boiler had hardly been fixed, before a crack appeared in one of the old ones, by which its thorough repair was rendered imperative, and which has also caused some delay in realizing the full benefit of the additional boiler. The smith's shop has been removed from its former site to one adjoining the engine-house, by which the discharge of the engineer's various duties has been much facilitated. The Committee have decided on building a detached cottage for the engineer, by which the services of a married man may be secured, and the situation at the same time rendered more desirable, and its remuneration assimilated to what prevails in most other asylums.

Additional Works and Improvements.

Amusement of Patients.

During the year the Committee have sanctioned a certain expenditure on objects connected with the enjoyment and amusement of the patients. The wards have been decorated, and their already cheerful aspect heightened, by the introduction of a greater number of plants and singing birds. An acceptable contribution of gold and silver fishes has been received, through the kindness of the Marquis of Ailesbury. A set of tables for the out-door tea-parties has been made, and some additional musical instruments purchased for the band.

Officers,
Attendants,
and Servants.

In the discharge of his duties, the Medical Superintendent continues to receive every assistance from the Medical Assistant, the Clerk and Steward and the Matron. The conduct of the attendants and servants has, with little exception, been satisfactory; two or three have left their situations, but no one has been discharged. During the year, an additional nurse and an assistant to the tailor-attendant have been engaged.

Additional Statistical Tables.

The series of Statistical Tables has this year been made more complete by the addition of two Tables—Nos. 3 and 16. The first of these, No. 3, shews at one view the Discharges and Deaths—with the Mean Annual Mortality and the Proportion of Recoveries, for each year since the opening of the Asylum. The other, No. 16, shews the length of time after admission which elapsed previous to discharge in those who recovered, and previous to death in those who died, during the year.

In consequence of the present high prices of provisions, the weekly charge for patients is ordered to be raised from 7s. to 7s. 3½d. per week ; being at the rate of one shilling and a halfpenny per day. Weekly Charge.

It appears, from the last (Fourteenth) Report of the Commissioners in Lunacy that in 1859, out of thirty seven County Asylums in England and Wales, there were only two in which the weekly charge was so low as 7s. a week : these being the asylum for the county of Dorset* and that for the North and East Ridings of Yorkshire. There were only eight other asylums in which the weekly charge fell below 8s. : the remainder being at all rates from 8s. and 9s. up to 12s. and 13s. per week ; these last being asylums of recent erection. In about half of the whole number, (17) the charge ranged from 8s. to 9s. So low a rate as 7s. or 7s. 7d. per week necessarily implies an economical administration ; and it may be questioned whether, with average prices, a county asylum can be worked at a lower rate, consistently with the object for which it is established, viz., the recovery and care of the insane poor.

* The charge at the Dorset Asylum was a fraction (one farthing per day) less than 7s.—viz., 6s. 10¼d. per week : there is a slight endowment connected with this Asylum. It should be observed that comparisons of the kind made in this paragraph are frequently open to grave exception, as being easily susceptible of erroneous inferences. By some, the low weekly cost and charge for patients in this Asylum will be regarded, perhaps unjustly, as necessarily indicative of an administration less liberal than is to be desired. A great variety of circumstances, many of them local and temporary in their character, require to be considered before making any strict comparison of the charge for maintenance in different Asylums.

The Medical Superintendent concludes his Report with the expression of his hope that he may continue to receive the support and enjoy the confidence that have heretofore been accorded to him by the Committee of Visitors.

“ There are 341 patients in this Asylum (142 males and 199 females), 42 of whom appear to be under medical treatment. 36 patients were wet or dirty last night.

“ Since the Commissioners were last here, there are registered 117 admissions, 67 discharges or removals, and 46 deaths. The principal causes of death appear to have been diseases of the brain, chest, and lungs, and from exhaustion and old age. There was only one instance of general paralysis.

“ We have to-day seen the patients, and have inspected their rooms and galleries, which are clean, and generally in very satisfactory condition. The grounds about the Asylum are cultivated, and very cheerful.

“ We learn on enquiry that about two-thirds of the patients attend Chapel, where Divine Service is regularly performed by the Chaplain ; and that a very considerable number of the patients of both sexes take extended exercise beyond the limits of the premises.

“ We think that a few of the bedrooms have too many beds, and that many of the patients might wash in their rooms. We recommend also that the attendants of both sexes should read aloud to the patients in the evenings and during weather when it is scarcely possible to take out of doors exercise.

“ We have suggested to Dr. Thurnam (to whose skill and care the Establishment is so much indebted) for his consideration ; 1. That the Windows of the Refractory Wards should be lowered and those wards rendered more cheerful and ornamented. 2. That the number of nurses should be increased. And 3. That more pictures and objects of interest be dispersed about the Asylum.

REPORT BY TWO VISITING JUSTICES.

“ June 15, 1860.

“ We have this day visited the W. C. L. Asylum, have been through all the wards and offices, and have found everything in a satisfactory state—the patients generally tranquil.

“ We find that the additional pictures and objects of interest for which, at Dr. Thurnam’s suggestion, a grant was made by the Committee of Visitors some time prior to the visit of the Commissioners in Lunacy, had been ordered but had not yet arrived.
